Dear Archie:

Did you know that Leonardo DaVinci who painted the "Mona Lisa" spelled his name backwards! He also spelled everything else backwards. He spelled his name like this: Icnivad Odranoel. Isn't that strange?

The "Mona Lisa" is in the museum in Paris, France called the Louvre. I definately would want to see the "Mona Lisa".

Also I love the artwork by Thomas Rockwell who painted the "New Year Look," "Expert Salesman" and many more.

Thomas Rockwell and Leonardo DaVinci are both my favorite artists

I LOVE IT! THIS IS THE WAY I'M ALWAYS GONNA WRITE-A MY NAME!

Dear Archie

The abacus is an ancient device first used in China to perform math problems. It is a frame with columns of beads that represent numbers. There are two columns of beads separated by a cross-bar. On the right is the ones column, next the tens, and so on.

The abacus is one of the first calculators and it is impressive. Some people can calculate difficult problems in only a few seconds!

ARCHIE FANS! Every month, ARCHIE CLUB MEMBERS have their letters printed in my comics wherever the ARCHIE CLUB NEWS appears. The winners receive CASH PRIZES and their names are printed in the comics. Collect the Action!

Introducing PRO SET
the Only Official NFL Card

Now you can collect the action of the NFL season in a new way. Introducing PRO SET, the only official NFL card. Each card features a unique action shot of a player in a game, capturing the excitement of the moment. The cards are designed to be a part of your collection, not just a piece of memorabilia. They are the only cards that are officially licensed by the NFL and the only cards that are available in a set of 250 cards per team. This means you can collect the action of the entire season in a single set. The cards are also available in a variety of formats, including hardcover, softcover, and digital. So whether you're a collector or a fan, PRO SET is the only official NFL card you need to collect the action!

Editor's NOTEBOOK

Dear Archie Readers,

Well, how does it feel to be on vacation? Have you been keeping up with all of our latest issues? ... VERONICA IN JAPAN, THE WORLD OF ARCHIE #599 featuring once again, by popular demand, "The Explorers of the Unknown". Then there's THE WORLD OF JUGHEAD, BETTY & VERONICA SUMMER FUN, and the premiere issue of BAYOU BILLY, based on the hottest new video game for Nintendo® by Konami®. This month, the book that everyone's been screaming for is finally here. It's JUGHEAD'S DOUBLE DIGEST #1.

This book has 256 pages of non-stop fun and excitement. Don't miss it!

It's now time to move on to the next step in producing an Archie comic. In my last Editor's Notebook, we learned what the letterer's job is. Now we'll learn about what the INKER does.

When an inker receives a story to work on, it's now written, pencilled and lettered. To complete the page the inker has to go over all the pencilled art in black ink. To do this he/she needs the following materials: brushes and pens (both thick and thin), black india ink, ruler, T-square and triangle all with raised edges.

Generally, an inker will start by inking all the heads and figures, using pen for small details such as eyes, mouths and of course freckles. Brush is used for outlining the larger figures and filling in large black areas. In order to create a feeling of depth, subjects in the foreground are inked with a heavier brush or pen line than those in the background. It's a good idea to work on a few pages at a time. This is to avoid smudging by allowing the ink to dry. Next, the backgrounds are carefully inked, usually with pens, rulers, T-square, and triangle. This final step has now completed the page, so that they can be photocopied and sent to the next artist for COLORING. But that's another story.
